

The Awesome Egyptians - Cat Mummy

Cats were valued in Ancient Egypt for killing venomous snakes and protecting the Pharaoh. They were often mummified when they died. A god with the head of a cat called Bastet was also worshipped.

To make your mummified cat you will need coloured paper and half a kitchen roll or similar. Cover your tube in coloured paper and stick down with PRITT. Press down the top ends to form ears. Use black pens and metallic pens (if you have any available) to draw on a cat's face and decorated mummy wrappings.
