

The Cut-throat Celts - The Green Man

The Celts were an ancient war-like tribe that came originally from Austria but spread over large parts of Europe, including Britain. One of their main gods was the god of the trees and plants - the Green Man. He was made up entirely of leaves and made sure spring and summer happened each year.

- Cut out your green shapes and use them to make the god's face (use PVA or Pritt)
- Find some leaves and stick them on the face as hair.
