

The Slimy Stuarts - Great Fire

The Great Fire of London

The Great Fire of London took place in 1666. It started in a baker's shop in Pudding Lane and destroyed 13,200 houses and was a disaster waiting to happen - houses made of wood coated in pitch (a flammable substance) and tightly packed together.

To make your Great Fire Picture

- 1) Cut out your tinder houses.
- 2) Squeeze some fire coloured paints over an A4 piece of card or paper
- 3) Place a second sheet of paper over the first, press down and pull away.
- 4) Press the houses onto the paper.
